ARC Troopers are the Republic’s elite among standard clone forces. Chosen for their exceptional skill and leadership, they undergo advanced training and receive specialized equipment to handle missions that regular clones cannot. They serve within their legions and battalions as battlefield leaders and front-line spearheads. Led by CC-2240 "Thragg", ensuring all personnel are up to standards.

Organizational Structure

Currently, the ARCs are organized into two classes: Null-Class and Alpha-Class.

Null-Class

- Role: The Null-class Advanced Recon Commandos stand at the absolute pinnacle of clone development. Numbering only six, they are beyond the scope of any clone within the Grand Army of the Republic in terms of intelligence, speed, strength, and mass.
- Weaponry: Null-class utilizes standard issue weaponry alongside the Westar M5 and the Dual DC-17b pistols.
- Leadership: The first Class Captain is N-11 "Ordo", overseeing the strategic and tactical operations of Null-class.

Alpha-Class

- Role: The Alpha-class Advanced Recon Commandos were the first 100 successful clones engineered by the Kaminoans to be stronger, faster, and smarter than standard clones.
- Weaponry: Alpha-class is equipped with standard issue weapons, alongside the Westar M5 and Dual DC-17b pistols.
- Leadership: The first Class Captain is A-17 "Alpha", guiding Alpha-class in their fast-paced operations.

The A.R.C Troopers continue to excel on the battlefield.
