Story

Plo's recent history is very depressing but also rich in legendary moments. As he became a Higher and Higher rank within the jedi order, his council would make several attempts to route him out of the Order as a whole, Likely upset at his ability to reach the rank he did. This however, did not stop him.

He would go on to fight on Carida both against the IRC Terrorists, and the CiS alongside the Wolfpack. He also fought in several campaigns on Christophsis, where he witnessed a great deal of good men perish to the hands of the Count of Serrano. On multiple occasions, Plo would end up dueling the count, Once resulting in his capture. He was able to escape capture after careful planning with other jedi in regards to escaping. Luckily being able to run into his rescue team on the way out, allowing them to have reinforced numbers for their Exfil.

Afterwards, he was immediately redeployed to Christophsis where he fought valiantly and freed two cities, before being deployed to take prime. Which was done successfully. It was at this moment, the forces of fate came together to tie up master Plo's story, As he was sent back to christophsis where he would ultimately die fighting for what he believed in.

Downfall

Master Plo was deployed to the grounds of Christophsis with the mission of defending it against the ruthless droid army. He fought valiantly alongside his men. Slaying hundreds of droids in the process alongside master yoda. He and yoda would then however stumble into the HQ of Count Dooku, under the presumption that it was a supply depot. They then engaged in fierce combat with the count, until master Yoda ran in fear in the middle of battle, leaving the Outgunned Plo Koon to be all alone, giving every ounce of power he has just to ensure a small chance of survival. Ultimately, it didnt matter, as in his final moments, he was struck down by the count, all alone, betrayed and hated by the council he worked among for all of his life. He lived a lonely life unsure if anyone was truly there for him. His death, however, was not in vein. He died having unknowingly saved the lives of two of his Men.
