

5th Fleet Security

Overview

The 5th Fleet Security is a specialized Battalion responsible for the defense of Republic space vessels and infrastructure from external threats and internal risks. First led by Commander CC-6466 "Pond", due to the high risk of boarding ships, they have been renowned as the most elite in the Republic. These clones are the last ones to leave a ship, being more than willing to fight until their last breath.

Organizational Structure

Currently, the 5th Fleet Security is organized into three specialized companies: Wampa Company, Exogorth Company, and Aiwha Company.

Wampa Company

- Role: The Wampa company is the first company to respond when the venators are getting boarded. They are the frontline and try to break through enemies attacks.
- Weaponry: Wampa Company utilizes standard issue weapons, and riot equipment.
- Leadership: The Company Captain is CO - 4114 "Pond" overseeing the tactical leadership of Wampa.

Exogorth Company

- Role: The Exogorth company is tasked with the protection of high class personnel on venators while also managing the brig and holding cells on it.
- Weaponry: Exogorth Company is equipped with standard issue weapons.
- Leadership: The Company Captain is CO - 2380 "Giovanni", guiding Exogorth Company in their protection systems

Aiwha Company

- Role: The Aiwha Company is an elite Airborne Company within 5th Fleet Security, responsible for pararescue, special tactics operations, combat search and rescue within hostile territories, and emergency medical services.
