On the space front, Tup was apart of multiple space battles in which he was a force against invading droids. His journey took him through the recapture of Alderaan from IRC forces, through the space of Carida, and down on the ground on Christophsis, where he met his end.

Death on Christophsis

During a forward advance in the city of Lesis, Tup was leading Republic forces through the destroyed streets when a battalion of CIS forces caught them off-guard, and Tup, along with most of his men, made the ultimate sacrifice. Through grueling guerilla warfare, the Republic still has yet to claim Christophsis, as the CIS forces remain as the dominate force.
