HOMEWORLD	Brentaal IV

Overview

Vanto Silar, currently serving as a Jedi General with the 327th Star Corps and the current Champion of the Order is a famed figure within the Jedi Order and wider Republic. As skilled duelist with very few equals, and a battle hardened commander, he is responsible for leading some of the Republic's most sensitive and highest risk missions.

Vanto Silar was born on the Core World planet of Brentaal IV, centered between the Hydian Way and Perlemian Trade Route. Even for his age, he was well-versed in both the business and economic sides of galactic trade, but also the dark side of piracy. He was discovered by the Jedi Order after months of occasions where he could hear the impressions left behind on objects, revealing lucrative and secretive schemes that had taken place weeks prior. Because of this ability, he was quickly targeted by pirates and shady tradesmen before being finally found and brought to the Jedi Temple on Coruscant.

Vanto was the first Jedi to assemble to a team to find, excavate, and recreate ancient Old Republic era armor, and weaponry in thousands of years. He, among his two friends, Lego Nubby and Volhaar Sivrak were corrupted by Darth Vynn, in which he recruited them to this journey for power. Through gaining this power in the form of weaponry and armor, over 2 years of being missing and hunted by the Jedi Order, he and his team had finished their hunt for power. They had then taken it to Coruscant, with the aide of Master Jorus C'Baoth, to trap Darth Vynn, and later eliminate her; freeing them of Vynns corruption.

Vanto Silar has since returned to the Jedi Order, and aided in several major battles, such as the battles for Tophen City and Leesis City on Christophsis and Lessu City on Ryloth. He has now developed several allies and relationships with the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Galactic Senate.

> Wielder of the Pink Crystal. As the current living Champion of the Order, Vanto Silar is the only person in the galaxy to hold the famed Pink Crystal, signifying his skill to all his opponents.
