

Death Watch

Overview

Led by Pre Vizsla, the divide after The Mandalorian Wars left the Mandalorian empire in ruin. Adrian Paskia Ordo Duchess Satine Kryze is acting as leader of the Mandalorian people on Mandalore, who have taken a pacifist view after the recent conflict.

NOTABLE FIGURES

The Death Watch are completely different. They are followers of the original creed, prioritizing military strength above all else. They hone their skills on Concordia, the moon orbiting Mandalore.

Being able to go undetected, they perform coordinated strikes against the people of Mandalore, instilling fear into the people, and influencing them to revert to the old laws.

History

They have recently split from the Mandalorian people, so little is known about their actions other than The Assassination of the Vice Chancellor.

The Assassination of the Vice Chancellor

While on a diplomatic mission Mandalore, VC Aurek Valoren was killed by Mandalorian sniper fire, becoming a martyr in the coming conflicts on Coruscant. His death marked a change in faith in the Mandalorian people, causing distrust with the Galactic Republic.
