Inner Rim Confederacy

About

Initially three of the biggest middle-men within the Inner Rim, the I.R.C. started out as a successful business. On a dark night in 950 RSY, a ship landed on the planet of Coruscant. Among the buildings of coruscant, a meeting took place. Ya-zir La, one of coruscant's most successful business men, spoke to his two allies; Midar Alrich and Val Horne. A [illegible] between the three, commencing the biggest trade of the year with two exporters.

Upon the execution of the trade, the three middle-men received the packages from both companies. The packages included a considerable amount of, after further investigation, illegal heavy weaponry. Upon their depart, the three were never to be seen again. They had effectively stolen some of the most detrimental weapons any normal person could get in their hands.

The confederacy is suspected to consist of highly-skilled mercenaries from all around the galaxy, particularly those who come from lavish families. Judging by their violent attacks, they are no small organization.

Basic Information

OFFICIAL NAME	The Inner Rim Confederacy
CAPITAL	? ? ?
POLITICAL STANDING	Outlaw
HEAD OF STATE	? ? ?

Historical Milestones

FOUNDING	Circa 955 RSY
MAJOR CONFLICTS	The Attack on Ryloth, The Attack on Taris
LEADERS	Ya-zir La, Midar Alrich, Val Horne

History

The Attack on Ryloth

At midnight on 955 RSY, on the planet Ryloth, a ship failing to respond to communications landed. Shortly after being approached by the inhabitants of Ryloth, five men opened fire, effectively killing the inhabitants. An unknown force was oppressing the planet. The five ransacked the planet, stealing any weaponry or resources they could find. After their attack, they left in the place of their landing a message.

“Long Live the Inner Rim Confederacy.”

The Attack on Taris

In the same year, also at midnight, a starship later identified as a stolen freighter landed on the planet of Taris. Similarly, it did not respond to communications. After landing, they did not wait for the approaching. A large group of twenty individuals rushed out of the freighter, invading the planet and stealing scrap and weapons, opening fire on all they could see. A massacre by all means. Being met with minimal resistance, they loaded their loot and left, leaving the same message.

After the previous events, no account of the confederacy was ever seen again.

Revision #4
Created 2026-02-19 19:23:11 UTC by Admin
Updated 2026-07-23 21:56:59 UTC by Lucas